

Denis Musikhin, the owner and CEO of LLC
«Musikhin, World of honey»

Dear friends and partners

more than 30 varieties of honey

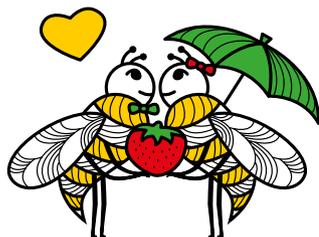

In the year 2000 I set up a small family-run apiary in Dobrinka, a village in the Orenburg Region. Ever since then, I have been developing the business, being driven by the love of my work and never compromising on the quality of our honey. Today, our company is cooperating with apiaries in the Kursk, Belgorod and Krasnodar regions; Tatarstan, Altai, Kirghizia, Bashkiria and Kazakhstan.

We offer our customers more than 30 different varieties of honey, light and dark, familiar and rare. Our products are produced under the trademark «Musikhin, World of Honey» and available from shops or exhibition-fairs both in Russia and Kazakhstan.

Марь & Лужь

There are some especially important additions to our product line, honey compositions «Marr&lage». They are astoundingly delicious treats; organic desserts, which will be welcome on any table. We choose our Ingredients for these desserts as meticulously, as we choose the honey. That's why our fresh products so easily find the way to our consumers' hearts.

Марь & Лажь

Marr and Lage are two fairtale bees. You can see illustrations from their lives on the labels of our honey products. Their warm relations not only reveal a happy marriage, but also represent a union of the gifts of nature with a light honey mousse; a combination of a healthy product and a treat full of flavour.

honey mousse with natural goodies

The main advantage of «Marr&lage» compositions is in applying fragrant honey, which although could be great on its own, it's particularly good as a cocktail of mousse and berries, nuts or other natural goodies.

«Marr&lage» is made by professionals and passes a vigorous quality control at every stage of production. The taste of honey compositions were also developed by experts, who explored and combined the most harmonious combinations of ingredients.

Some variations of «Marr&lage» are still unique on the Russian market.

Honey mousse with green tea and ginger

Soft sweetness enriched with tonifying ginger and mild green tea. Low-calorie treat that strengthens your immune system.

Honey mousse with blueberries

When this northern berry, full of antioxidants, micro and macro elements, meets fragrant honey mousse, you feel the harmony that fills your body and soul.

Honey mousse with Goji berries

They say Goji berries are good for our health in a variety of ways, including pressure stabilization, blood purification, libido increase and sight benefits... But most importantly, they are known for life extension, for in traditional Asian medicine Goji berries are used to strengthen the tone of the body. They are also delicious in combination with honey.

Honey mousse with pine nuts

Siberian cedar seeds are good in limited quantities, as you maybe know. We use just enough of them in our compositions so that you could get your portion of E, P, and B vitamins together with set of minerals, while the nuts' mild taste does not interfere with honey aroma.

Honey mousse with cranberries

Is there anything better for immune system, appetite and digestion than cranberries? Only freshest cranberries grown in ecologically clean regions. For "Marr&lage" we use only such berries, which ensures perfectly balanced taste of our compositions.

Honey mousse with strawberries

Deservedly popular combination of fragrant berries and no less fragrant honey. Great regale in any situation, especially highly valued by those who are watching calories consumed.

Honey mousse with sea buckthorn

Sea buckthorn is sometimes perceived only as a fruit for traditional medicine with a wide range of benign effects. However, we succeeded in using its pleasant taste properties to supplement our gentle honey mousse.

Honey mousse with carob beans

Carob is the world famous natural sweetener and a healthy chocolate substitute. Our composition with carob beans is a diet-friendly delicacy that is also a perfect stress-reliever.

Honey mousse with tahini

«Marr&lage» receives sesame tahini paste from one of the world's best manufacturers. Honey softens and diversifies its unusual taste, and also complements its the beneficial properties, including a nice effect on hair and skin.
